Remarkable Demonstration Follows Difficult Operation Performed by Dr. Lorenz at New York Clinic.

IBT THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
NEW YORK, Dec. 19—The latest clinic held by Dr. Lorenz in this city was entirely successful in its results. So large was the crowd of parents with crippled children present that half a score of policemen had to be called to keep order.

a score of policemen had to be called to keep order.

One operation was upon a little girl both of whose feet were clubbed. This case, Dr. Lorens described, as the worst he had seen in a child. When the stretching and kneading of the feet was over the doctor raised the child in his hands, and set her on her feet. With the mere pressure of his finger and thumb he set both feet flat and straight, and cheer after cheer broke out as the complete success of the operation was demonstrated. on the 12th inst. As in the memorandum of Mirch. 1991, this argument is asset upon the highest principles of international law.

The Venezuelan government perceives with the utmost sugprise that you attribute to it a desire to consider this point only in the light of interior legislation. By citing in our note of May 9 of this year, the twentieth article of the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation between the German government and the Republic of Cotombia of the 23d of July, 1992, our only desire was to add another proof to those already brought forward with regard to the assent of the imperial government to this same doctrine, as maintained by Venezuela. Certain cases are now cited, in which are precedents to enter into diplomatic relations to affect a settlement. These are precedents to enter into diplomatic relations to affect a settlement. This note lost its confiden-tial character through the publication of a memorandum by the German Ambassador to the United States, in Ambassador to the United States, in which was incorporated the note in question. The Venezuelan government is also surprised at the assertion that its memorandum of August 12 was conceived in offensive terms. The government thinks it can be seen that the said document contains only a summary of the opinions expressed by the German Ambassador to the United States, with a consequent defense States, with a consequent defense made in a strictly judicial manner and in the moderate tone which is our legitimate right.

ON FINAL DEDUCTIONS. "I now have to express the opinion and attitude of the Venezuelan government with regard to your final deductions, and concerning the motives which led you to present them in the name of the government of the German Emperor. It has been decided that since the proper junts is already installed, procedure cannot be dilatory or differ from the control of the control nor differ from the form prescribed by international law. Regarding the other points, each of which comes within a certain law, it is only necessary to call your attention to the abnormal circumstances which have paralyzed any course of action relating to these matters. The Venezuelan government is now considering the appointment of a fiscal agent.

In order that this be done, it becomes necessary carnestly Great Britain will join, shall permit it to issue an order reëstablishing public credit. The delivery of this reply to the United States for transmission to Minister Bowen is delayed for a day Minister Bowen is delayed for a day or two, for tactical reasons, probably through the expectation that another solution may be found, possibly by President Castro yielding. Four days ago, the idea of the German government was in favor of rejecting arbitration. The that is understood here to have been the temper of the British Foreign Office. While it is impossible to trace the steps that led to a reversal of this view, it appears that the state of public polinon in the United States so far as Germany is concerned, produced a revision of the first idea.

The Foreign Office has no information to the effect that President Castro has bestowed on Minister Bowen full power to represent Venezuela in the settlement of the axisting difficulties, but such a step foward a solution would be received with pleasure.

United States Agrees to Twenty-five Per Cent. Off on All Cuban Goods While Cuba Makes Reductions Ranging Up to Forty Per Cent.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The friends of the reciprocity treaty recently negotiated between the United States and Cuba have been assured by members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations that the treaty will be taken up by that committee as soon as practicable after the Christmas holidays. There were several conferences on the subject today which resulted in this understanding. The terms of the subject today which resulted in this understanding. The terms of the treaty require that it shall be ratified before the 31st day of January, and its supporters appreciate the necessity for expedition in getting it out of the committee in order to avoid the necessity of an extension of time.

The treaty makes more liberal provision for the importation of American articles into the republic of Cuba than has been stated heretofore, there being a continued to the protests of the meat packers against the inhibition of the use of boracic acid, the preservative used in fish and cuestion of the Agricultural Department, not by the dealers. The amendment of the dealers of the Agricultural Department, was lost, 16 to 50.

Without amendment calling attention to the protests of the meat packers against the inhibition of the use of boracic acid, the preservative used in fish and cuestion of the deleteriousness of a question of the deleteriousness of a question of the deleteriousness of a cuestion of the desired whould be decided by the officers of the Agricultural Department, was lost, 16 to 50.

Without amendment of a material point, the bill with instructions to report in like thereof the bill, with instructions to report in like thereof t for expedition in getting it out of the committee in order to avoid the necessity of an extension of time.

The treaty makes more liberal provision for the importation of American articles into the republic of Cuba than has been stated heretofore, there being provisions for reductions in some cases as much as 40 per cent.; in others of 39 per cent., and in still others of 25 per cent. and in still others of 25 per cent., and in still others of 25 per cent. and in still others of 25 per cent. and in still others of 25 per cent. The color of all american-grown or American-made articles except to-bacco, imported into Cuba and not specified in the 25; 30 and 40-per-cent. classes, there is to be a uniform treduction of 25 per cent. In return the United States agrees to a uniform reduction of 25 per cent. without exception on all importations from Cuba.

The new isiand republic does not agree to any reduction on tobacco grown in the United States or in the territory of any of its possessions, and imported into Cuba. The products of the United States which are to be admitted into Cuba at a reduction of 25 per cent, from the rate of the exist.

the United States which are to be admitted into Cuba at a requestion of 25 per cent. from the rate of the existing Cuban tartiff include pottery, salt fish copper made machinery, cast and wrought iron and steel and articles used in manufacturing them, glass, cotton, and some cotton goods, ships and bonts, whisky and brandy.

The 30-per-cent, reduction includes cutlery, shoes, plated ware, drawings, photographs, engravings, etc. material used in making labels and bands for tobacco, common soaps, preserved vegetables, butter, drugs, bottled beer, etc., mineral waters and articles made of hemp and kindred fibers; musical instruments and writing and printing papers.

The list of American importations

struments and writing and printing papers.

The list of American importations into Cuba, on which a 40 per cent, reduction is made, includes, watches, umbrellas, knit cottons, preserved fruits, perfumery and woolen and silk goods.

There is a specific declaration to the effect that the rates fixed for each of the two countries by the other shall be preferential of each party to the convention, as against all other countries. There is also a provision against a discrimination tax on the articles.

yet there is a clause under which, if this reduction is made, the Cuban government may reopen negotiations to secure a modification of the treaty. It provides for such a change only in case the Cuban tariff should be so reittee would not listen to the view.

The treaty is to go into effect ten days after its ratification by the authorities of both countries.

WASHINGTON, Dec. ~19.—HOUSE. Some preliminary business priceded the resumption of the debate on the Pure Food Bill in the House today. After some remarks by Mr. Chandler against the measure, and Messrs. Richardson of Alabama and Schirm of Maryland for the bill, Mr. Hepburn of Iowa closed the debate. The bill, he said, did not fully meet his approval. If he could have his way, it would be made still more drastic. The bill did not invade the police powers of the States, as he believed it should. As soon as the first section of the bill was read for, amendment, under the five-minute rule, Mr. Adamson of Georgia moved to strike out the enacting clause. His motion was defeated by 12 to 53.

Mr. Gardiner of Massachusetts offered an amendment providing that dried fish, preserved by suitable preservatives, employed as a surface application, shall not be deemed adulterated in the meaning of this act.

fered an amendment providing that dried fish, preserved by suitable preservatives, employed as a surface application, shall not be deemed adulterated in the meaning of this act.

Mr. Mann of Illinois supported the amendment, calling attention to the protests of the meat packers against the inhibition of the use of boracic acid, the preservative used in fish and beef. Mr. Hepburn contended that the question of the deleteriousness of a preservative should be decided by the officers of the Agricultural Department, not by the dealers. The amendments.

Decision Against Claim of Crew of Gunboat Eagle for Million Dollars Rendered by Judge Thomas. IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.I

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 .- United States invalid a claim of $1,000,000 against the Unite States entered by Lieutenant Commander William H. Southerland of the navy. The amount was asked as prize money, the commander and his crew of the Eagle, a converted gunboat, having distroyed the Spanish steamer Santo Don. Ingo during the Spanish-American war. Southerland demanded the value of the sunken Spanish vessel and her cargo, the contention being that Admiral Pewey and his men were granted large booty prizes in Maniis Bay for similar-work. The government maintained during the trial of the case that only the sum of $1100 could be recovered by plaintiff. The difference between the suit instituted by Commander Southerland and the case of Dewey and his men is that the Santo Domingo is grounded and buried in the sands of Southern Cuba, while the ships sunk by Dewey were in a condition to be restored to their normal shape. The government claimed that only such sum as it had received an equivalent for should be paid out.

SAN JOSE ELECTION.

DECISION AS TO LEGALITY.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRISS—A.M.]

SAN JOSE, Dec. 19.—Judge Rhodes of the Superior Court today sustained the demurrer of the defendants in the case of ex-Mayor Charles J. Martin et al. vs. Mayor Worswick et al. The suit was brought by the former city official to oust the present administration on the ground that the election of last May was illegally conducted. Judge Rhodes, in his decision, went into the merits of the case, giving a liberal construction to the provisions of the city charter and holding that an election every two years was purposely intended, and that the ballots and registers of the last spring election were not used illegally, as alleged. An appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court. DECISION AS TO LEGALITY.

Buy Books for Christmas Gifts

Many $1.00 and $1.50 Books Now 25c

You can't buy a more acceptable gift for the average person than books, and there's no line of merchandise that can be bought in Los Angeles at the present time at such sweeping reductions as have been made in our book department. Our chief's orders are to sell books regardless of cost and profit, and we are following his instructions to the letter. You'll find in our book department many $1.00 and $1.50 handsomely bound copyright books for sale at 25c each, and nearly all book prices have been cut in the same proportion. It's the greatest opportunity for book buyers and book lovers to save money that's ever been offered in Los Angeles. If you're in doubt as to what to buy for Christmas and have one grain of economy in your make-up, think books, and at the same time think Broadway Department Store.

Poster Calendar ==Free

As a special Christmas greeting there will be given with today's Los Angeles Express, a beautiful Poster Calendar, reproduced from a drawing made exclusively for The Express by Harold Erskine Crafts of this city. This Poster Calendar is a genuine work of art, printed on fine book paper, is 101/2 x151/2 inches in size, and will be delivered free of charge to all subscribers of The Express in the city and all points in Southern California where carrier service is maintained. Subscribers failing to receive the Poster Calendar will be supplied at the business office, 225 West Second St., Los Angeles, where samples, ready mounted may be seen.

Extra copies of The Saturday Express, including the Poster Calendar, will be for sale by news boys and at all news stands at 2 cents a copy.

The Times Special Midwinter issue will appear on January 1, 1903. It will tell the complete story of the year's progress in the Southwest. The descriptive matter will be in condensed form, and will give in the least number of words possible a history of the chief events of the year in each county and town of Southern California.

As usual, it will be the aim of the publishers to surpass the efforts of all rivals in the same direction. They expect to succeed in their efforts. The edition will be printed on good paper, handsomely illustrated and ined in a specially-designed cover. To prospective settlers in this region it will prove of much value in that game. Should his royal yachtness suc-ceed in lifting the cup, he won't hear anything but cheers from this side the pond. But old man Herreshoff is still outtering around with his head full of nation will be timely, authentic, and specific. Citisens and visitors will find it valuable for the information it will give to friends in the East who may be interested in the present prosperous conditions in the Southwest.

It will be the aim of the publishers to make the edition so valuable, both for the matter it contains and for its fine letterpress and workmanship, that, like its predecessors, it will have a circulation covering the entire States. It is expected that at least 100,000 copies will be issued.

Advertisers who desire to place announcements in this special issue should send in their copy not later than December 1. ... Advertising rates given on application to THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

DRECAUTIONS AGAINST PLAGUE. A dispatch from Victoria. B. C., under date of December 18, notes fact that Dr. Fagan, secretary of the British Columbian Board of Health, has sent out a letter to al the health officials in that prov warning them to take preagainst possible bubonic plague infection from San Francisco. enclose regulations regarding the plague," says Dr. Fagan, in his notito the provincial boards do so," he continues, "because of the crease of plague in San Francisco. 1902, there have been eighty-nine deaths from plague in San Francisco Sixteen of these have occurred since September 9 of this year." All quarantine officers are warned by Dr. Fagan to be on active guard, and a close inspection will be made of all steamers arriving from San Francisco. All this is a matter of wise and sensible precaution. Other sections are certain to take similar measures to protect themselves against tion from San Francisco, unless the authorities of that city, and those of the State, become aroused to the imperative needs of the situation and adopt drastic measures to stamp out the disease. It is to be hoped that other States will not find it necessary, as has been threatened, to establish a formal quarantine against California because of the infection at San Francisco. But this will probably be done unless the progress of the dis-ease shall soon be effectually stopped in San Francisco's Chinatown. In this connection, it would be well for the Los Angeles health authorities to see to it that all arrivals of Chinese in this city from San Francisco are subjected to thorough examina-tion. The fact of the existence of the medical testimony, it is emident that there is danger that some of the Chinese coming from the infected disably no immediate cause for alarm, it is well to remember that "an ounce which John Mitchell was virtually the of prevention is worth a pound of dictator. cure." Being forewarned, we should also be forearmed.

We may have mentioned the matter before, but still it may be in order to cemark that there are a great many poor people in Los Angeles, as elsewhere in the world, to whom Christmas is not going to be any great may shakes, unless you who are better off shakes, unless you who are better off than they shall see fit to look about you. Prosperity which has raised the prices of food, fuel, and other material things, has made the burden of those stricken by poverty and sickness thousand Boers are about to trek to the Chited States. And from all appearances there are more than as pearances there are more than as pearance of the toys displayed in the shop windows. See the tired and discourtaged mothers who are struggling to keep the little family together. Give them a lift if you can, that the recording angel may put your hand in his book on Christmas Day!

SHAMEFUL DISCLOSURES.

The testimony of non-union ers before the Anthracite Arbitration Commission has established, as it was organized gang under direction of a veritable reign of terror in the anthracite coal regions during the strike. Mitchell and his followers may deny responsibility for such cor ditions as much as they please; but their denials will only serve to prove their own mendacity, and to place upon them more conspicuously the brand of guilt and the weight of responsibility.

It has been shown that men were ersecuted in the most outrageou manner; that some were murdered and that others were maimed; that their homes were burned or blown up with dynamite; that their wives and children were subjected to the most shameful of indignities; and that other outrages too numerous to mention were inflicted upon them and their families-for what? For the simple reason that they insisted upon exercising an inalienable right of citizenship—the right to earn an honest living by honest work; the right to dispose of their toil, or its products, in such manner as they saw fit, unhampered by dictation from any union or other organization.

Because these miners chose thus to stand upon their rights as men and as citizens, and for no other reason, they were subjected to systematic and malicious persecution such as should never be tolerated nor perconditions, under any form of government, civilized, or uncivilized Least of all should such wrongs be permitted under our system of popuar government, which boasts of the protection of freedom which it secures to the individual citizen.

The State government of Pennsylvania is in large part responsible for he condition of anarchy and lawlessness which prevailed for some five months in the anthracite region, during the coal strike. The State of Pennsylvania is under obligations to the nation, of which it is a part, and to its own citizens of all classes, to maintain a republican form of government. The government of the United States is under obligations to see that a republican form of governplague in San Francisco having been State of the Union. A republican form of government was not maintained in the anthracite coal region tained in the anthracite coal region during the strike which is now under investigation. The exact truth is being brought out before the strike commission regarding the outrages perpetrated upon non-union men in the anthracite residual. during the recent strike. It is both in-teresting and horrifying reading. Whatever the merits of the miners' cause, nothing can warrant men in as-sailing with gunpowder and dynamite other men who have equal rights with other men who have equal rights with themselves. The strike commission will be worth all it costs the country if it is successful in causing a perma-nent cessation of violence in the coat regions and the establishment of the principle that every man in this free country has a right to earn a living for his family.

Over in Rostoff, Russia, when they have a strike it means business. According to a cablegram from that distant point, there was a battle between strikers and Cossacks recently, in which several hundred persons were killed and something like 1000 wounded. That the performance settled the strike is not of evidence. If it did, it is the first time that violence has accomplished that end. What the particular walking delegate's name was has not been announced; but if it had been, we probably couldn't pronounce it to save our lives. THELD, Dec. 19.—As a seem mutiny that broke out the School yesterday afterakes of the freshman class a loday, in sympathy with indested sophomores. One of the moning came to the school is apologize, but Principal shused to receive him, and in to leave the building. The refused to go out, but may join in the trouble at the service of the school in the trouble at the service of the service of the music tongues. He corresponded with a firm in Switzerland, the real home of the music box, several years without avail. So, after finding that he could not get the music tongues made either in his own or foreign countries, he and his sons undertook the task and were successful.

They made a rough model of the

They made a rough model of the wireless plane at an agricultural machine shop under great disadvantages. They made the combination—the music-box reeds with the plane keyboard—and their efforts are crowned with success.—[Chicago Journal.

John W. Gates, Good Fellow. As the result of an accident to a horse, Millionaire John W. Gates this morning took a long walk through the mud of south Texas to reimburse the mud of south Texas to reimburse the owner. When the magnate and his secretary returned to their special train, after a faunt of several miles, they were covered with mud. The owner of the animal received a check for $250.

As the special train bearing Mr. Gates and his party back to Port Arthur was between Beaumont and the winter headquarters of the millionaire it ran down a horse. The animal suffered the loss of three legs. When Mr. Gates saw the animal he ordered it shot immediately, and, holding the train, he set off on a search of the owner. With difficulty the man was found in a little cabin some miles away. Without controversy the magnate handed over his personal check away. Without controversy the magnate handed over his personal check for the amount named, twice the value of the horse, and set out on his trainward tramp. Almost exhausted, he returned to his luxurious quarters, looking as if he had taken a mud bath. The main line of the road had been blocked by the delay of the special, and three trains were on the track. Mr. Gates has recently expended an immense amount of money to improve the roads about Port Arthur on his roads about Port Arthur of account. He has approp the treatment the treatment of the treat A former Kansas man, writing to his home paper, tells the following story: "Once while traveling in the Ozark Mountains in Arkansas I cam upon what looked to be an old well of the top of a low, but thickly-wooded half a day. I dismounted tied him to a tree and lowered the bucket into the well, but to my surprise, when the bucket came up again, it contained a piece of pasteboard, which read: Hike or die. I can say that I gladly did the former. I knew at once that I had intruded upon an old moonshine or whisky distillery, so numerous in that section of the country. They had placed a well curb over the entrance for a blind."—[Kansas City Star.

So he went one-quarter animals. It's an interesting story.

Glove Sale Saturday

We told about a special glove sale a couple of days ago. Had the weather conditions been favorable there would not be a single pair of the gloves in the store at this writings while a great many women braved the inclemency of weather in order to remarkable values, there are still several hundred pairs of the gloves in stock, and we therefore continue the sale today

At 85c the Pair.

These gloves are worth $1.25 to $1.75 the pair, being made of real kid and lambskin, and are from the same factory which makes the celebrated Trefousse gloves. The 85c price includes the following

2-clasp pique, all shades and sizes. 2-clasp real kid, overseam; black, gray, tan and brown. 2-clasp suede: black, gray and tan. 2-clasp English craven, heavy tan walking gloves. Boys' and misses' pique, in all sizes and shades.

Our regular space Sunday announcement will give details about the remarkable sale of silk velvets which is to begin Monday morning. This sale will be notable both for the richness of the goods and the remarkable price reductions.

store will be open evenings Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Christmas.

Cross-examination of Tingley Concluded Yesterday.

Trial of Suit for Alleged Libel

Full of Objections.

Defense Will Produce Testimony This Morning in Court at San Diego.

ISTAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES. SAN DIEGO, Dec. 19 .- "We desire, if the court please, to find out who and what this plaintiff is," exclaimed Attorney Samuel Shortridge, for the defense.

"Interesting as that might be to the attorneys for the defense, I must deny them the privilege at this time. It is not proper cross-examination," ruled This was the upshot of the chief inident in today's proceedings in the rial of Katherine A. Tingley's suit for thel against the Times-Mirror Comoany. Mrs. Tingley was on the stand the greater part of the day, and under the careful and determined guidance of her attorneys, proved a reluctant witness in cross-examination by the debehavior in the past, but to this desire the attorneys for the plaintiff inter Complete external and internal treatment for every humour, consisting of CUTHURA BOAT, 25c., to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cut-icle; CUTHURAN, 50c., to in-stantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal; and CUTH CUTHURAN, SOCKET STATES AND COLORS.

the attorneys for the plaintiff inter-posed vigorous objections at every turm, with the result that this line of inquiry was abandoned for the pres-ent, the court ruling against the ad-mission of this sort of evidence of cross-examination. The bulk of the time at both the morning and after-moon sessions was consumed by coun-sel in presenting and resisting in-numerable objections to questions prosel in presenting and resisting innumerable objections to questions proposed to Mrs. Tinsley and to the offering of newspaper exhibits.

A few minutes after 4 o'clock the cross-examination of Mrs. Tingley way concluded and plaintiff called Gen.
Harrison Gray Otis to the stand. Gen.
Otis testified as to the daily circulation of The Times during the year of 1901, and as to the property valuation of the Times-Mirror Company. Plaintiff then rested, and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning, when the introduction of testimeny by the defense will be begun.

FORENOON SESSION.

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Meth-of-Every Breath of Hyomei brings Relief.

PORENOON SESSION.

The courtroom was crowded to the doors at the very beginning of this, the fourth day of the Tingley-Times liber tr.al. Mrs. Tingley, clad in the same blue tunic she has worn on the former lays, resumed her place in the witnesschair, as soon as the proceedings were opened, but was not allowed to testify to anything for nearly an hour, on account of a wrangle over the propriety of the last question propounded to her on cross-examination just before adjournment Thursday afternoon. The question was:

"Is it not a fact tha prior to the publication of the article complained of, articles had been published in other papers attacking you and your work. Nearly every one who has catarrh knews how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach. Tem-porary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure caterrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can earry a health giving climate in your vest pecket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete outfit of Hyomel costs

The complete outfit of Hyomel costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropped and a bottle of Hyomel. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and there is enough Hyomel for more than a month's treatment of catarrh. If one bottle does not cure an extra bottle of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

The leading druggiets of this city have sold hundreds of Hyomel outfits and the more they sell, the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomel does not cure.

Those who are subject to externing more perfinent than to neak what she had been doing prior to this? What effect other articles in 6.

an injustice if they do not purchase a Hyomel outfit at once, so as to be prepared for the sudden changes of be anything more pertinent than to ask what she had been doing prior to this? What effect other articles proceed that the more of the duced on her?"

Attorneys Andrews and Kellogg took part in the discussion in behalf of the defense. Mr. Kelloeg spoke of the difference between mental and physical suffering, and said there was no limit to mental anguist; the degree of mental suffering, inflicted by a libelous publication depended upon the isomerament of the victim. Referencing of a sensitive victim, while it might blunt the sensibilities of a thick-sklinned person. The inference from counsels remarks was that Mrs. Tingley is very thin-skinned; hence the greater sufferer. The court, in adhering to his former decision overruing the objection to the question, delivered extended remarks in support of his action. He said there was a confusion of so-called learning in the law of libel in text-books and decisions of courts; he had come to the conclusion that there was too much learning on the subject, and for his part he would be governed by commonsents principles.

"If the defense can show upon cross-

"If the defense can show upon cross

"If the defense can show upon cross-examination that other causes were existing at the time of this alleged libelous publication, which produced or contributed to plaintiff's condition, they have a right to do it. The Los Angeles Times cannot be held responsible for any suffering she may have endured on account of other publications. The defense has a right to show on cross-examination anything which would naturally have produced or contributed to this mental condition for which she claims damages. The objection is, therefore, overruled."

ceeded to interrogate her on other lines.

"For some two or three months prior to the publication of the article in The Times complained of, what work were you engaged in." was asked.

She replied: "All the general work of the organization, editing the New Century, caring for children, etc." She had no regular working hours, she had no regular working hours, she said, but generally put in as much time as was necessary, sometimes

Asked to explain definitely how, where and when she received a "shock" on account of the article in The Times of October 28, 1901, she did not claim Point Loma as her home. Although her headquarters have been there—for the last three years, she was not permanently located there.

"Tomorrow I may be in India," she said. She did not explain whether it was her physical or her astral self that could be transported to the other side of the globe in so short a time.

The next question asked evoked a storm of objections from plaintiff's counsel. "What had been your business prior to the time you became the leader of the Universal Brotherhood?" Mr. Hunsaker asked. Mr. Hunsaker asked.

gaged in strenuous conflict before, subjecting her to public criticism, it is a question for the jury to decide whether her condition was brought on by the attack complained of, or other attacks, and as a result of the contests in which she has been eagaged."

The court overruled the objection. In replying to the question, Tingley said it was not her habit to read puolications reflecting upon her, unless a direct attack was made. She never made a practice of reading papers; no other direct accusation except the article in the Los Angeles Times was ever brought to her attention. She denied seeing numerous articles and publications attacking her position, but on being questioned Turther, admitted that she must have read some articles other than The Times' article, that reflected on her.

CRITICISED BY "HERALD."

Mr. Hunsaker here sprung a little surprise on the plaintiff, by showing her a copy of the Los Angeles Herald of September 18, 1900, containing a lengthy article, filled with damaging criticisms of herself and her manages ment of the Universal Brotherhood. She was asked when she first saw it, but she couldn't see it at all, because she did not have her glasses. She said she had no recollection of reading the Herald article, Mr. Hunsaker proceeded to interrogate her on other lines.

She was alone when she received the "shock."

This line of testimony was interirupted by the finding of the madam's glasses by one of her attendants. After she adjusted her spectacles, the copy of the Los Angeles Herald was again handed her, and she scrutinized at some length the defamatory article, conspictuously displayed on the front page, with a large portrait of her self, and again she declared she had no recollection of ever having it called to her attention.

Being apparently unable to make any headway on the lines pursued during the early part of the afternoon, counsel for the defense withdrew for consultation. Upon returning to the attack, Mr. Hunsaker asked the witness (Mrs. Tingley:) "Is the article complained of here the only one that ever gave you any shock or caused you any sleeplessness?"

An objection was interposed and sustained. Mr. Hunsaker then changed the form of question to read: "Is the article complained of the only thing that has occurred to worry you or to give you a shock since about the time of the publication of this article?"

"It's the only article that ever gave me a permanent shock. I have no recollection of ever being so horrified," was the reply.

"To what extent have you suffered from this shock?"

"I read the article three times, and the effect was it gave me a positive nervous shock. The horror of children the effect was it gave me a positive nervous shock. Than any other physician in Los Angeles. I have given more years to the study of men's diseases, I have expended a greater sum in equipping my officers with all the devices, curative agents, and facilities for mastering these diseases. No expense has been too great if it would procure a device for eliminating pain or making my treatment more efficient. I have this to say, unless a man's condition is so far gone that human aid is utterly incapable of benefiting him, I have the knowledge, experience, and means of curing him theroughly and permanently.

So certain I am of my ability to master men's diseases, that I am willing that any patient may deposit the cost of a cure with any bank of newspaper, not to be paid me until the patient is satisfied that his disease or aliment is entirely cured. Stricture. Specific Blocd Poison.

This most hideous of all venereal diseases can no longer be classed as incurable. The idea that the limit of medical aid is to keep the disease dormant by persistently dosing the system with mineral poisons, is as incorrect as many other ancient theories to which many of the profession cling. Such treatment not infrequently results in the virus being driven deeper into the system, where it attacks and destroys even the vary last tain or poison from the vary last tains of the sufferer. I position from the vary last tains of the cure will be a prompt of the disease visibles forever. I employ no dangerous drugs or mineral poisons, but use harmiess, blood-cleansing remidues heretofore unknown in the treatment of this disease. I regard my success in overcoming this frightful leproxy as the crowning triumph of my professional career.

These Who Take My Trea ment

Have my personal attention. Those who have my personal attention are cured because I do not guess. I go to the very core of the trouble and rout the exact cause. My examinations consist of something more than the stereotyped questi as as to what YOU think. It is not always what you think, but what a thorough and searching examination, such as I give, reveals. I bring you face to face with your exact condition. If you desire my personal attention, I give you the benefit of my twenty years' experience in treating chronic and deeply-seated troubles. Chances are your disappointment in not attaining a cure is due to failure of not getting at the exact cause.

Not By Mail

In reply to the many inquires by mail for my treatment, I have this to say: I have no treatment to send by mail. Such methods are not only unsatisfactory, but are sometimes worse than no treatment at all, and such methods may be the direct cause of many chronic conditions which etherwise could have been cured many chronic conditions which etherwise could have been cured in a week or two.

Those promising a cure by mail are promising that which they know they cannot perform to the satisfaction of the patient I can, and do, obtain better results by one or two weeks' treatment than can be had by six months' treatment by mail. Patients coming to the city for treatment are furnished rooms free of any charge and have my personal attention. In view of this fact, my unjertaking your case is equivalent to a guarantee of an absolute and permanent cure.

Contracted Diseases.

I am confident I cure these ailments more quickly and with less pain or inconvenience than any one claiming to treat successfully, these conditions. Has your case become chronic through improper treatment or by the use of caustic remedies? Has it caused despeated inflammation in the urinary tract, the result of which you now suffer from stricture? Chances are you could have been cured in one week to ten days with my treatment, and even new the chances are favorable to make the cure as quick.

Varicocele.

Under my plan of treatment the patient improves from the very beginning and is cured in 4 to 6 days. All pain ceases, soreness and swelling quickly subside, the pools of stagnant blood are forced from the dilated veins, which rapidly assume their normal size, strength and soundness.

Weakness.

Brings with it nervousness, loss of memory and loss of ambition, robs you of strength, absolutely unfits you for study, business or pleasure. My treatment for weakness will correct all these evils and restore you to what nature intended——Ale, healthy, happy man, with physical and mental powers complete.

My Treatment for Men Touches every chronic condition. The cures I make are permanent and there are no evil after-effects.

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 19.—The armored cruiser New York arrived off Santa Barbara at noon today, coming distance in about twenty-two hours She cast anchor a few hundred feet from the commercial wharf and it is given out that she will remain here for about ten days, after which she for about ten days, after which she will make a short cruise to San Diego, return to San Francisco, about the first week in January. This itinerary is what an officer gave out today, although there is an apparent disposition to say as little as possible concerning the future movements of the great fighting vessel, which was Admiral Sampson's fiagship at the battle of Santiago during the Cuban troubles. While it must be submitted as the result of guess work, certain reasons have been given for the suspicion that have been given for the suspicion that the New York will not remain in Santa Barbara waters as long as it is said she will and that she will not return to San Francisco during the first week in the year, unless the difficulty as Venezuela has been settled to the sat isfaction of the governments involved in the pending embroglio by that time, It may also be said that there is something to support the theory that the Navy Department at Washington the Navy Department at Washington has temporarily abandoned its former intention of assembling the Pacific squadron in Southern California waters for midwinter maneuvers and target practice. The battleship Wisconsin, Admiral Casey, sailed from San Francisco yesterday presumable for Asiatic waters, accompanied by the Solace. These were to have joined the New York, Marblehead, Boston, Alert and Mohican in the southern maneuvers. The vessels of the Pacific squadron may possibly engage in masquadron may possibly engage in ma-neuvers and target practice on the Pacific Coast within the next few months, but it is reasonably certain that they will take place off shores south of those of California, if at all. GEN. BOOTH ARRIVES. GEN. BOOTH ARRIVES.

The directors of the new Potter Hotel

The directors of the new Potter Hotel and members of their families gave a house-warming party at the hotel today. For the first time the various departments of the big tourist hotel were pressed into service, the members of the party spending the greater part of the afternoon in going through the house, riding up and down on the elevators, rolling the balls in the bowling alleys, and enjoying themselves generally. An orchestra furnished music in the great auditorium, while the directors and their guests made a thorough inspection of the interior of the pullding, and at 3 o'clock the first meal to be served in the place was indulged in in the dining-room, which is said to be the largest and most elegantly equipped in the West.

TO SWEEP BY HAND.

The City Council has entered into a temporary arrangement for having State street swept by hand instead of mechanical devices, as heretofore, which has proved very unsatisfactory. The paved section of the street is nearly three miles in length, running from the water front into the residence section of the city, and a large force of men will be required to keep the street constantly in a clean condition. A recommendation from the City Engineer that off be used on all streets hereafter to be graded has met with temporary deteat because of some doubt as to the legality of such a step.

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 19.—Startling confessions that are expected to solve the mystery surrounding the numerous bloody deeds in this locality recently were made as a result of the examination of Edgar Rouhoux and one Ruhlin on charges of burglary here yesterday. Ruhlin turned State's evidence and Rouhoux made a sensational confession that may lead to other arrests. Rouhoux and Ruhlin are charged with robbing the notorious saloon of Rouhouy and Ruhlin are charged with robbing the notorious saloon of L. A. Anderson ("Butcher Alf") last Friday night. When they appeared before Justice Downing in the Township Court yesterday afternoon for preliminary hearing, Ruhlin promptly asked to be allowed to turn State's evidence, and Judge McComas moved that the charge against him be stricken from the rectords. Ruhlin was then placed on the witness stand to testify against Rouhoux, who was his room-mate and friend. Ruhlin testified that Rouhoux explained the robbery to him, after it Caught Under Falling Lumber. Caught Under Falling Lumber.

Clarles Collins, an employé of the Whiling Wrecking Company, was severely injured yesterday afternoon while unloading lumber near the Arcade depot. The side stakes in the car broke, and the lumber fell to the ground. Collins saw his danger, but could not get away. He was caught under the boards and sustained a fracture of the leg and severe bruises. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, and thence to the California Hespital.

GREATEST OF PIPE ORGANS.

Kansas City Convention Hall Orders It Built Here.

Murray M. Harris.

Will Beat the World in Size and Features-To Open St. Louis Exposition.

By far the largest, costliest and most conderful pipe organ in the wide world will be built during the coming year in ray M. Harris Organ Company, returned from Kansas City and New York yesterday with the contract for constructing the great instrument. The organ is ordered for Convention Hall, Kansas City, but it will first be set up and played as the official instruset up and played as the official instru-ment to open the St. Louis Exposition,

May 1, 1904. The actual price to be largest in existence. An idea of enormity can be secured from the that it will contain the tones of separate musical instruments, and volume of sound will be greater in would that of an orchestra of 140 a. There will be 140 speaking stops 190 mechanical registers, making a al of 239 registers. There will be present the samplest one-half inchere will be two separate construction, the latter marking and the wind pressure will vary m 3½-inch to 20-inch.

MARVELOUS MUSIC. MARVELOUS MUSIC.

It can be safely said that there is not an organist living who will be master of the great instrument when it is first set up. The new features open up possibilities for marvelous attainments in organ music. One of the most interesting of these new departures is what has been termed by its inventors the "double touch." Briefly told, this gives two tones from each key, and virtually gives the organist who masters its use four hands. If the organist presses the key with more than the normal touch (four ounces,) a second electrical contact will be induced, bringing into use any or all harmony on the "great organ," through which he "desires to carry an accented theme, to bring the melody from the full organ.

The specifications for the organ, including all of these new features, were prepared by the local manufacturers alone. They have been experted by prominent organ six all over the United States, and have elicited universal orgase.

cluding all of these new features, were prepared by the local manufacturers alone. They have been experted by prominent organ "six all over the United States, and have elicited universal praise.

SOME COMPARISONS.

Careful comparison of the organ credered with other great organs of the world shows it will be fully one-third larger than any other instrument extant. It will be more than three times the size of the famous Stanford organ, which was built by the Hairis company, cost $15,500, had 3000 pipes, 46 speaking stops, and 3 manuals.

The largest organ in existence today is in the Town Hall of Sydney, Augtralia. It was built by Hill of London, has $300 pipes and 128 speaking stops. The largest one in the United States is located in the A. T. Stewart Memorial Cathedral, at Garden City. L. I. It was built by the Roosevolts, who are now out of the business, and whose superintendent and ablest workmen are now with the Harris company. The organ in the Mormon Tabernacle at Sait Lake City, which visitors are told is the largest in the world, is really but twenty-sixth in size in the United States alone, and is eclipsed by many in foreign countries. The Mormon instrument has less than 4000 pipes and 60 speaking stops.

USES OF NEW ORGAN.

many in foreign countries. The Mormon instrument has less than 400 pipes and 60 speaking stops.

USES OF NEW ORGAN.

The new organ will find its permanent home in the big convention hall, the great auditorium, which is the pride of Kansas City. The hall is owned largely by small stockholders among the general public, being built in ninety days for the Democratic National Convention, after the burning of its predecessor. The hall has an actual seating capacity of 15,000 persons, and, though it has been used for all manner of public gatherings, has never contained a stationary musical instrument. Orchestras and bands have proved wholly inadequate to furnish music for great assemblages, especially for the grand balls held there periodically, there being as many as 6000 dancers on the floor at times.

The new organ is designed with a view of taking the place of all bands, orchestras and similar musical organizations. The specifications provide for not only a grand concert organ, but one with all the orchestral and symphony effects. The organ will be installed in Festival Hall, St. Louis Exposition grounds, and will be opened there May I. During the seven months of the World's Fair concerts will be given from it by famous organists from all parts of the world, and on December 1904, it will be conveyed to Kansas City.

The securing of the contract is quite an honor to local industry, and a tribute to the accomplishments of the firm of Murray M. Har is & Co. Mr. Harris has been head of the organ-building firm for the past eight years, and the progress to fame in that industry has been rapid, though sure and amply merited. He has just returned from his third trip to New York this year, and in addition to the Kansas City organ, closed a contract for a $20,000 instrument in New York. The firm employs about fifty men, but the record-breaking contract will necessitate the immediate enlargement and improvement of the plant, and the employment of twenty-five additional men. The biggest organ will engage two-score men for a year, exclusive of packing, shipping and installing it. It will take ten large furniture cars to ship the organ to St. Louis, and it will weigh in the aggregate 250,000 pounds. The Los Angeles organ factory is the most complete of its kind in the United States, as every part of the instrument is manufactured here from the raw materials. No other fac-STRONG PULL were presented, along with those of a number of other piaces throughout the country. It is clearly the opinion of Dr. Bovard that the meeting can be secured for Los Angeles, if the necessary financial guarantee is given, coupled with assurances of the ability of the city to entertain all who will come, and provide a proper hall for holding the meetings.

Dr. E. A. Healey was put up to tell who will come to the big convention. He gave an incisive review of the bishops and the official corps of the conference, which was most unique and entertaining.

they request a small contribution.

These confidence workers actually shed tears while teiling their "touching" story, and they usually get a doilar or two.

To some victims they state that they have been sent there by the Rev. C. F. Schois, pastor of the German Evangelical Church. This usually has the effect of securing for them a contribution when tears have failed. There is not the slightest truth in their stories, and they are obtaining money under false pretenses. It is believed that they secure the names of German families from the city directory and then call at the residences at such hours as may be most convenient for their purpose. The sharpers have doubtless secured.

So well have they played their game and so greatly have they worked upon the sympathies of the women that some to whom they have applied have called at the Bakers' Home lodging-house with bundles of flowers and baskets of food, the flowers being to decorate the coffin of the "dead wife" and the food to relieve the hunger of the children. The clerk at the lodging-house said last night that some of the women who called brought floral pleces which must have cost considerable money.

This is the second time these sharpers have operated here. They were first heard from in November, when they collected sufficient funds to keep them comfortable a month or more.

This is good news for telegraph operators, street-car employes and other late workers, and for the patrons of tamale wagons who stop at the curbstone lunch-counters for a final "snack" before retiring.

It also is cheering to the tamalevenders, who depend on a late spurt in business to clear out their supplies of corned-beef hash, hamburgers and "sinkers" before their 2-o'clock closing hour.

Instead of taking off the popular "hobo," it is said to be the intention of the street-railway management, as soon as power and other conditions are

CARCELY have we had opportune digest President Kruger's account of the Boer struggle against England when there comes another book from one of the prominent figures in that contest, though this time the prominence was military and not civil. We have before us "Three Years' War," by Christian Rudolf Dewet.

In the first place, we may mention

In the first place, we may mention that we have no power to struggle that we have no power to struggle against the present superstition that jit is the bounden duty of everyone who has become in any way notorious to write a book as the result of such notoriety, whether he has any power of writing or not. We are forced to accept the facts, however little we may like the theory; so we shall not cavil at the existence of the present work. We suppose that the whole surviving Boer army will in time record its experiences—and find as many publishbenefits of their conquest, may be a little more moderate in their use of printers ink. But probably not much. Well, we have the hook which is supposed to be justified by Gen. Dewers experiences, and it is interesting in its way and valuable in a way which was not foreseen by the author. Gen. Dewet was a very able leader in the kind of fighting in which he was engaged; but that was after all but guerrilla warfare, and the experiences which are recorded are not of great or in any way important military movelustrated with photogravure frontispiece and eight full-page plates of noted originals dealing with the life of the saint. It is in all ways a handsome book and is well suited for a present-to one who can appreciate its spirit. That spirit is sympathetic to a degree. There is in the introduction a word which sums up the thought of the book. It says: "All his doctrine was in his life." That is well said of Francis of Assisi, if ever of mortal man. He not only practiced what he preached, but he preached by his practice; and that is a yet better thing. He was very human, even in his judgments; he was not deceived, either as to himself or others, by the evidence of emotion. When a rich nobleman came to him weeping and requesting entrance into the order, Francis looked at him with as much scorn as his mild nature could hold. "Why do you lie to the Holy Ghost and to me?" he asked. "You are weeping carnally, not spiritually."

It is not, however, primarily with the life of Prancis that the book before us deals, but rather with the activities of the men who stood with him in the early days of the great order which he founded. The personality of Francis pervades the book if at times only in infuence, but is rarely to the forefront of the action. In fact, the book as might be judged from its title, is made up of brief biographies—or rather, hagiographies, since they treat almost entirely of the canonical lives of these men—of the knights of the order, as they are well called, who helped Francis, both during his life-time and after his death, to build that order to greatness. We are told of such men as Bernard of Quintavalle, according to the ideas or the bias of the great Franciscans. Nevertheless, we are minded to class the novel now before us, and which, to our mind, is superior to that work of Stevenson which it resembles, as melodrama, though a very good specimen of its class.

When the estate came to be distributed, he was found to be shy on his accounts as administrator, 83342.15.

The court appointed W. J. Variel.

Esq., to represent the heirs to the estate, and Variel sued Mesneger for the shortage. He got judgment, and that is all he got.

Mesneger was brought up on citation, because it was charged that he had put his property in his wife's name to avoid the judgment.

When they got him in court, Mesneger had to explain how his wife had all the money; how his investments had failed.

Mesneger and Attorney Dunnigan wrangled back and forth until Judge
Allen begged them to go away somewhere and have it out by themselves.

Walter Haas, Esq., the attorney for cay Engineer stations stated sesterday that he—has made a thorough search of his department and finds no record of such plans. If this be the status of the situation the courts may have to decide whether the city, by permitting the company to erect and maintain a viaduct; has not waived its rights under this franchise provision.

After the board had listened to arguments on both sides, the protest of the property owners was sustained in so far as it related to the construction of a larger viaduct. That portion of the protest asking the city to take action to prevent the company from rebuildlng the viaduct at all was disregarded in the decision reached by the Board of Public Works. of Public Works.

If the Council approves the findings of the board the company will be free to erect a viaduct on the same plans that were used before unless the property owners resort to injunction proceedings in court.

In anticipation of a contest in court Attorney Dunn stated to the board that he wished it understood that the plans presented were not submitted for the approval of the board, but merely to oblige those who desired to know something about their project. He said that the company maintains that plans and specifications were approved years ago and that additional plans do not have to be filed for approval in the rebuilding of an old structure. Walter Hans, Esq., the attorney for Waiter Haas, Esq., the attorney for Mesneger, nervously interposed an objection to the suggestion of the court. He said that much hard feeling existed between Dunnigan and Mesneger, and that he did not care to attempt to take depositions, as suggested, off in a room with them alone. He said he would rather have this thing done in open court.

The matter was not completed.
The other proceeding involving the Leonis estate was a wrangle in Judge York's court over a settlement of a ststement on a bill of costs in the old suit brought by the widow Leonis against Etchepare, her agent.

Tackled the Wrong Man.

Thomas McLaughlin was a little misty about a charge of battery that was read to him in Justice Austin's court yesterday, but he pleaded guilty. After he had heard the evidence of the complaining witness, a deaf young fellow named Dillion, McLaughlin concluded that if the charge was battery, the wrong man was in the dock. Dillon testified that on Monday night he went into a downtown resort and got change for a gold piece, when he paid a bill of 25 cents. McLaughlin, who saw him get the change, followed Dillon out of the place and asked for a quarter, which was given him. Dillon then went, on down toward the crib district on Alameda street, followed by McLaughlin, whom he had never before seen, and was unable to "shake" him.

Finally McLaughlin suggested that they go back through a vacant lot and that excited Dillon's suspicion. In language more forcible than polite he' asked McLaughlin who he was. With that the latter grabbed Dillon by the vest and said:

"Give me that money you've got or I'll kill you."

Dillon is not as big a man as his assailant, but he didn't wait to ask questions. He landed on McLaughlin with his right and then with his left, and the would-be highwayman broke and ran after McLaughlin, and had him in tow when the police came up.

This called for a water tank holding so many thousand gallons, and within it a gas-holder to contain so many thousand cubic feet of gas, and referred to the combined work as "this completed gas holder."

Lowe then admitted that the language read was a "very good description of the work being done."

It sounded very much like a direct contradiction of his first answers to Attorney Rush, but it is the fine professional construction put upon the language, backed up by the argument that a gas holder is no part of a gas "plant," that saves Lowe from apparent perjury.

The defense set up this argument in its cross-examination of Lowe, and further set up the contention that the holder is but the pressure governor on the pipe line, and is consequently not a part of the works, but a part of the distributing system.

What effect this hair-splitting will have upon the lury would be heard.

what good does the Friday Morning Club do and what do you gain by being a member thereof? This is not the Catechism, though it may sound somewhat like it. It is a conundrum, and I wonder how many answers can be given to it. In former days it was often asked, and occasionally we hear it even now. Those who ask this question are not fully acquainted with our history, aims and importance in the community. When we were young in years and small in numbers people locekd askance at us, considering us blue stockings and very aggressive women, who would stop at nothing we would take into our foolish heads; whereas we were modest, timid, retiring women, afraid to admit that we belonged to a club, knowing what would be thought of us if we did.

"The club is not a polytechnic of all the arts and ologies, but it is an association of many women (over 600 in the crub is not a polytechnic of all the arts and ologies, but it is an association of many women (over 600 in number) of many minds, moods and manners. We see here the musician, artist, teacher, novellst, newspaper reporter, lawyer, doctor, nurse, business woman, rancher, home-staying woman, fashionable woman and if there be any other kind of reasonable woman she is found here. Now, why do all these women congregate together week after week and year after year, and others all the time joining our circle? Because in this community of various talents, ability and temperament each and all can give and receive something that adds to our enjoyment and makes our lives fuller and more complete.

and ran Dillon yelled for an officer and ran after McLaughlin, and had him in tow when the police came up.

When McLaughlin heard the evidence, he asked the court:

"What was that charge I pleaded guilty to?"

When told that it was battery he said, after hesitating a moment: "Well, I guess that will be all right."

He evidently anticipated a more serious charge and felt that he had been the only one battered.

He looks like "a bad 'un." and was given 100 days on the chain gang.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE Every working girl who is not well is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice; it is freely given, and "I want to thank you for what you have done for me, and recommend Lydla E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all girls whose work keeps them standing on their feet in the store. The doctor said I must stop work; he did not seem to realize that a girl cannot afford to stop working. My back ached, my appetite was poor, I could not sleep, and menstruation was scanty and very painful. One day when suffering I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found that it helped me. I continued its use, and soon found that my menstrual periods were free from pain and natural; everyone is surprised at the change in me, and I am well, and cannot be too grateful for what you have done for me."—Miss JANET PAINE, 530 West If original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced. Her Husband," and said in introducing her topic: "We must now come down to the stern realities of life, for what your husband thinks of you is no laughing matter. There is only one question of more vital importance in that which Miss McCuliough will discuss." What We Think of Ourselves. Then followed a symposium of bright opinions, which Mrs. Wright cailed "The confessions of a composite husband, in which we may see ourselves, the subject matter having been supplied by "the husbands who most amilably granted me interviews or sent written opinions."

These views varied from that of the dear old man who said that he "reality did not believe belonging to a club burt a woman," to that of the man who gave his wife the following reply: "Women? Clubs? Well, if the woman's you, it's all right, too." One obtuse man did to see what his wife wanted with a club when she had "the baby and mar's how here were done.

BIBLE LESSONS. FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

For particular The Times by J. S. Kiriley.

The world was easy for Cartae for the Cartae for the the Babe who was born in Bethlehem to be the whole world's Redeemer. The deepest significance of Christmas is Christmas is Christ.

No man gets the most and best out of Christmas who does not, in spirit, follow the shepherds to Bethlehem. Without this the day is but a holiday.

Earth touched heaven at Bethlehem on that first Christmas morning. And ever since, Christmas has been the time when mankind's heart has been the dime when mankind's heart has been the dime when mankind's heart has been the time when mankind's heart has been the time when mankind's heart has been the dever since, Christmas is the spirit of incarnate unselfishness, which is the spirit of Christ.

The more nearly like little children was the advent of Jesus at Christmas in the follows of the day, which commers, orates the stupendous fact of the entrance of God upon earth in the form of a child.

This is the day of gifts. Millions of persons are now occupied with loving thoughts of gifts for dear ones at Christmas. The fitness of this is apparent, for should not the great Gift be celebrated by lesser gifts? Let us give, at this bountiful season, with the fullness and unselfishness, and even with the sacrifice, which marked God's Christmas gift to man of heaven's dearest treasure.

A certain man has treasured for years among his valued possessions a little tin horse and wagon. It was a britance of content of the proposal and evening by man are now occupied with loving thoughts of gifts for dear ones at Christmas Gift to man of heaven's dearest treasure.

BOY DIDN'T FAINT AND SAYS "THEY" LIE.

It keeps us busy refuting lies told by that unscrupulous pair, Rogers and Hay, but we want to show these cowards up to the public as the contemptible creatures they are. You may have read the statement in the Union Labor News about one of our delivery boys—Wm. Losch, fainting. The boy voluntarily comes forward and says it is a lie. His signed statement follows:

"Several times I have noticed statements in the Union Labor News that I fell exhausted on the steps of Mrs. Fisher's house because I was overloaded with bundles from Hamburger's I have tried several times to get down here and deny the story, but today is the first chance I have had. This statement is unsolicited, but I want to brand that story of Rogers and Hay as a low down infernal lie. I never received better treatment than I did at Hamburger's. On the night referred to by the Union Labor News I took several extra packages so deliver for which I received extra pay and car fare. I waited in Mrs. Fisher's parlors only while she sent out and got change for $20,00, and Mrs. Fisher will W. Losch. tell you that this is so, and that I was not Selected Items from Toyland and Dolldom.

There is not very much time left in which to get the presents so that Santa Claus may take them to the little ones as Christmas gifts. This store is Santa Claus' headquarters. There is no doubt of it, for he has stored the assortment of toys and dolls here in greater profusion than at all the other stores in Los Angeles combined; and Santa Claus is here in person to talk to his little friends and see just what they want, and Saturday afternoon the children can again see him come over the side of our store from the roof to the pavement. Don't fail to bring the children down to see it.
